

1. PURPOSE

The American University of Paris is committed to supporting the student experience and The Office of Housing & Residential Life provides different housing services for students throughout their educational careers at AUP. This policy outlines the types of available housing, how each structure functions, and student responsibilities while living in University housing. .

2. WHO IS AFFECTED BY THIS POLICY

Students who live in AUP Housing or access AUP Housing.

3. POLICY STATEMENT

The Housing and Residential Life office seeks to assist students in securing safe and comfortable housing in Paris for their first year at the university; its goal is also to provide them with a tool to foster community, a place to ensure their successful transition in Paris and at AUP, and an educational environment to essential interpersonal skills that will have a life-long impact.

First-year and other new undergraduate students may occupy a single room or share an apartment with other new AUP students in AUP residences or Partner residences that are fully furnished and serviced. To benefit from AUP-facilitated housing, students must follow the rules and regulations specific to AUP residences, Partner residences that are designed to guarantee the safety and wellbeing of AUP residents, and the ability of the Housing and Residential Life office to continue supporting their residential experience.

Degree-seeking undergraduate students who have completed their first year of studies at AUP, transfer students who have completed their first semester, and all graduate students may rent their own apartments (AUP provides classified listings) and explore resources for students to conduct their independent housing search.

The rules and regulations are updated consistently to adapt to the changes in the AUP Housing offer and to ensure their accuracy and relevance.
