12:38 — Fashion Show Budget Review

- Lessons Learned and Steps being taken
 - Everyone working on the event was doing their best, people were being honest and responsive.
 - There was miscommunication – there were issues, but it was all coming from a good place, everyone was trying their best
 - We're taken steps to make the process better – we're talking about ways to improve the process
 - A matrix to allocate for a certain amount
 - How to handle the time-crunch element
 - Going forward a structure to handle requests like this in a more orderly way
 - What is done is done.
 - We're not doing to demand reparations or anything of the sort.
 - €436 returning to us.
 - Honest mistake on Danielle's part
- Budget process and reimbursement
 - Nebi: overview of budget
 - Will – point: They spent the money they requested on clothing. They were never trying to cheat us.
 - Overspent on Food and refreshments category
 - Total spent: €2,575.98
- Total expected Cash Back €436.02
- Questions:
 - Marly: what company did they use for chairs? (why so expensive?)
 - Same company Yann uses for thanksgiving
 - Ciat: Disagrees that it's a matter of miscommunication
 - Thinks that there were many instances of misleading
 - Will: this comes back to the initial request. We didn't adequately investigate this matter at the outset. But we voted and approved it.
 - Jasmine: Remember your right to say no.
 - Monique: We're not getting as much back as she said, but it's good that we are getting some money back, it's not a total loss. This is a silver lining
 - Dhouha: how have the senators who donated incorporate their departments into this project?
 - Jasmine: Emailed the senators, and received some detailed thoughtful responses
 - Matt emailed saying he supports business
 - The €90 given is for your department
 - Will: the €90 is an opportunity for senators to take initiative

- It's a missed opportunity if you spent the money and didn't attend
- Dhouha was asked if the makeup could be used by the artist for school.
 - It should be stored on campus
 - Yes, it should be used by and for AUP
- Electra: What happened to the €700 odd Euros promised?
 - Mistake with counting the receipts
 - What she presented were estimates
 - Details hadn't been looked at yet
 - We also weren't prepared for her to come.
- Electra: UNICEF shirts – have they communicated with UNICEF about profiting off the logo?
 - Designer talked to Chair of UNICEF club, said its find if they donate to UNICEF
 - Where are the shirts?
- Maria: When do they have to return everything to us?
 - In order for us to seem legitimate, they need to be contacted and told that we need to receive what we need to receive by tomorrow.
- Anna: Acknowledge the effort by SGA behind the scenes to resolve these options
- Ciat: Didn't see a way or feel a desire to involve his department.
 - Felt pressured to do it
- Jasmine: No one is obliged to spend their money for anything they don't want to. Senators hold responsibility
- Closing note by Jasmine: Keep in mind as a Senator that people are always going to complain and criticize, no matter how good or bad of a job that we do.

13:06 — New Business

- Maria – get involved with AUP Gives back.

13:10 — Senate Adjourned
