THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF PARIS
GLOBAL TALENT
SPRING 2018

CHOOSE YOUR
AUP INTERN
Vous êtes à la recherche de stagiaires anglophones (voire multilingues) et dynamiques ? C'est le moment de contacter The American University of Paris !

Notre campus accueille à Paris plus de 1000 étudiants représentant quelques 108 nationalités différentes. Forts de cette diversité culturelle unique en France, nous sommes même de vous proposer des candidats stagiaires motivés, ayant une grande capacité d’adaptation, formés pour devenir des citoyens du monde.
AUP students come to us with a profile that includes multicultural backgrounds or aspirations and a strong interest in becoming successful contributors to the world. Our demanding academic and multicultural learning environment provides students with the academic and professional global competencies critical to accomplish their success. By employing an AUP student in an internship in your organization, you are drawing from a talent pool of accomplished students who are:

Project-based learners and problem-solvers
- Students leverage Paris, a global hub, as an experiential classroom
- In AUP Research Centers, our students apply analysis and critical thinking to develop solutions to some of the big issues of our time.
- Students are well along to becoming experts in their field and gaining significant knowledge of other disciplines

Comfortable working in another language and culture
- Students experience lateral learning from peers of differing backgrounds and beliefs
- They are cultural translators who have developed the ability to negotiate differences

Accountable collaborators
- Students have unparalleled access to faculty and the benefits of close advising, mentoring, and academic and personal feedback
- Faculty/student joint projects have developed a mature level of student accountability

Possessed of real world knowledge and experience
- Academic practicums focus on solving real world problems
- Faculty-led study trips go across continents and apply classroom learning in real-world social, economic and political environments

Capable leaders and competent participants
- Participation in AUP activities and initiatives inside and outside the classroom support student leadership, innovation, creativity and entrepreneurship
Our partners benefit from their relationship with AUP students and have come back to us repeatedly to hire our students for internships and often for full-time positions. Join the community of organizations below who regularly hire AUP students:

ENHANCE YOUR TALENT POOL FROM OUR INTERNATIONALLY PREPARED AND ACCOMPLISHED STUDENTS

Explore the student profiles on the following pages and select from our talented students, both undergraduate and graduate degree students, who are ready to apply all their learnings to date on your behalf in the upcoming spring.

The profiles begin with graduate students (completing Master’s degrees), followed by undergraduate students (completing Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees). The profiles are designed to provide a quick overview of each student’s interests, skills, and professional and extracurricular experiences.

Students in this brochure are available to pursue internships in Spring 2018, either on a full-time or part-time basis (specified in each profile). If you wish to contact a student in order to receive his or her complete CV/resume or to arrange for a potential interview, please do so via the email address to be found under each student’s name.

If you decide to offer an opportunity to a student, the student will need to register his/her internship according to AUP policy. Once the registration has been approved, the AUP Internship Office will send you a “convention de stage” template by email. A signed copy should then be returned to the AUP Internship Office for processing.

For additional information regarding the “convention de stage” process, please contact Darcee Caron at 01.40.62.06.25 or internship@aup.edu.

"At Murano Connect, we have hired two AUP graduates and are seeking to recruit more. The international liberal arts education they receive in a multicultural environment prepares them well for roles in a firm such as ours with global clients. We find AUP students to possess exceptional maturity and global awareness, along with strong people and analytical skills. They also come on board prepared to work hard and make a difference in our organization from day one."

- OLE ROLLAG, Managing Principal, Murano Connect (London/NY)
