Faculty Achievements
2022

Professor Isabelle Carbonell at the Alexis Gambis Masterclass in Montessuy
Anybody who has ever studied at a liberal arts university knows that its faculty is, above all, committed and devoted to teaching. Anybody who has ever taught at a liberal arts university knows that carving out time for research is an acquired craft, and that is what makes The American University of Paris’ annual publication of its Faculty Achievements Brochure a cause for celebration.

One of the core values at the heart of AUP’s mission is the desire to create engaged lifelong learners and this brochure demonstrates that this mission embraces not only the students but also AUP’s faculty. A great teacher inspires a student with a love of learning, and this communication is only truly effective when that love is shared. AUP’s faculty, through these achievements, demonstrates their lifelong vocation for learning and for sharing that acquired knowledge.

From peer-reviewed articles to conferences, to workshops, exhibitions, essays, field trips, awards, chapters and books, AUP’s faculty’s achievements take many different forms. Indeed, the diversity of the output defies easy categorization and therein lies its richness. Between the classroom and knowledge or cultural production is a thin permeable membrane. Teaching may give rise to research, just as research feeds into teaching. AUP’s faculty members are professors, advisors, mentors and guides: they are also scholars, explorers, scientists, artists, critics, and writers. This brochure celebrates the vibrancy, dynamism, intellectual rigor, and creativity of AUP’s faculty.

I hope you enjoy reading about their achievements as much as I do.
