OUR URBAN CAMPUS

AUP lies at the center of one of Paris's oldest and most culturally diverse neighborhoods, the 7th arrondissement. Like most urban European colleges and universities, AUP's campus is a composite of its buildings, all located within close walking distance. The classes we offer benefit from our proximity to world-class museums, institutions and historic sites; with professors holding many classes on-site, we treat these locations as an extension of our campus. Imagine studying art history at the Louvre, or listening to a lecture about French military history while sitting on the lawn of Les Invalides. These are the types of learning experiences you will encounter at AUP Summer School.

COURSE INFORMATION

AUP's Summer Institutes allow you to immerse yourself in French culture and history while earning credits toward your degree or as part of your continuing education through class audits. AUP Summer School is organized into interdisciplinary institutes that provide the ideal mixture of intensive learning in class and creative exploration of Paris, combining the best of our academic programs with excursions and events around the city. Whether you take one class or a few, you will get to experience the best of what both AUP and Paris have to offer.

ART HISTORY, FINE ARTS & FILM

Paris provides the perfect backdrop for you to study the history and practice of the arts. Our faculty will lead you on an unparalleled journey through the history of art, architecture or film, often holding classes at monuments, museums and cinemas around the city. Want to improve your own art? You can take classes to refine your drawing and painting skills and develop a critical eye toward your own work. Immerse yourself in Paris and be inspired by a city that has produced some of the finest artists and filmmakers in the world, all while gaining the knowledge you'll need to take your creativity to the next level.

FRENCH LANGUAGE & CULTURE

Our carefully crafted French Language and Culture Institute not only provides rigorous instruction that reviews grammar and vocabulary and improves pronunciation, but also allows you to fully immerse yourself in French language and culture inside and outside the classroom. All classes are taught by experienced, native French professors and include dynamic teaching methods using theme-based seminars and café conversations, as well as guided walking tours around Paris to help you form a deeper connection with the city.

FASHION & LUXURY BRANDING

Long the epicenter of global fashion and luxury goods, Paris is the premier place to explore the world of high-end design and branding. Through our courses, you will be introduced to the history and theory of fashion and given the opportunity to experience the Paris fashion business firsthand. Past courses have included Global Fashion and Design and The Cultural History of Fashion, and students who enroll in the course L'art de vivre à la française will get an up-close look at luxury lifestyle brands during one of fashion's biggest events: Paris's Haute Couture Fashion Week.

EUROPEAN & INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

As the home of international organizations and multinational bodies such as UNESCO and the OECD, Paris is a natural center for the study of European and international relations. Our courses range from human rights to comparative public policy focused on contemporary questions such as immigration and the international refugee crisis. Our courses are supported by a program of events and field trips that will enable you to come face-to-face with some of the most pressing international relations issues in Europe and the world.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Paris is a global business capital, home to thousands of international companies, start-ups and NGOs, making it a unique place to study a variety of business topics through an international lens. Whether you are interested in marketing, entrepreneurship, management or another aspect of the business world, our International Business Institute offers courses in a wide array of subjects, from the building blocks of statistics and macroeconomics, to project-based work in areas such as sustainable business and finance. AUP gives you the opportunity to study a topic that matches your interests while gaining an international edge.

CREATIVE WRITING

As part of the Summer Creative Writing Institute you will have the opportunity to write and share poetry, fiction and creative nonfiction under the guidance of literary and artistic practitioners. Our highly accomplished faculty members are here to inspire, encourage and support the work of young poets and writers like yourself. Come enjoy Paris life and culture while becoming steeped in the great literary legacy that has inspired generations of writers from Victor Hugo to George Sand and Ernest Hemingway. Start your own story in the City of Light!

LIFE IN PARIS

The French have a word, flâner, which means to wander; a word that becomes a lifestyle during the summer in Paris. With its wide Haussmannian boulevards, beautiful parks and walkable banks along the river Seine, Paris is a city rich with opportunities for exploration. Every street is a history lesson, every café an opportunity to practice your French, every museum a source of inspiration. Each day that you spend in Paris is an opportunity to learn something new. It's the down time, those quiet moments spent wandering, that can teach you things you could never learn inside a classroom. Make the most of your time at AUP Summer School and supplement what you learn in class by discovering everything this city has to offer during the summer. AUP's location in the center of Paris gives you the perfect base from which to flâner.
